[REDACTED],
Thank you for all you've done to support the Wolfpack.

The challenges we're facing have touched every part of our lives, including your child's education. No matter what college experience they — and you — had planned on, everyone has had to adapt.

The Division of Academic and Student Affairs offers comprehensive services that help students cope with these uncertain times and prepare for success in their next chapter — and donor support makes that possible.

Last spring, the Counseling Center moved online quickly to provide accessible telehealth appointments, offering critical mental health support during a challenging spring semester. Thousands of students took advantage of individual career counseling sessions, and many thousands more attended academic tutoring sessions at the Academic Success Center. Thanks to our donors, all of these programs are available virtually.

Philanthropy from parents like you is critical to the success of these programs. We consider ourselves partners in your child's future, and we invite you to join our Parent Partners Program with your gift of $1,000 or more this year.

Program members receive exclusive benefits, such as insightful updates about the NC State student experience, opportunities to engage with university leadership, and invitations to special events and webinars. Plus, you'll connect with other NC State parents all over the country.

Wondering how your gift can make the most impact?

Many parents choose to give to the Parents Fund at NC State, which provides unrestricted support that helps us respond quickly to meet our students' most pressing needs. However, a gift at the $1,000 level to any area of NC State that you and your child are passionate about, such as their college, qualifies you for the Parent Partners Program.

We hope you'll consider making a gift and joining other parents who believe in the power of philanthropy to enhance their child's NC State experience, as a member of the Parent Partners Program.

Thank you for your support,

Lisa Zapata
Interim Vice Chancellor, Division of Academic and Student Affairs

Parent Partners Program

NC STATE UNIVERSITY

The members of the Parent Partners Program are an exclusive group of parents who believe in the power of philanthropy to enhance their child's NC State experience. This organization of parents is using its resources to deliver successful outcomes to NC State's current students, while ensuring that the next generation will be able to think and do the extraordinary.

Parents who make an annual gift of $1,000 or more are members of the Parent Partners Program. If you support the Parents Fund or any other area at NC State that you and your child are passionate about, you will be a member of the Parent Partners Program and receive its benefits.

As a Parent Partners Program member, you'll be able to connect with NC State parents from across the country, and you'll have access to a range of special opportunities:

- > Periodic communications about the NC State student experience
- > Opportunities to engage with university leadership
- > Invitations to webinars and special events
