

Dear Classmates,

Wherever we are in the world, or wherever we are in our careers, Lehigh will always be home. As we approach the <XXth> anniversary of our graduation, I encourage you to take a moment to reflect on your time at Lehigh. How has your life progressed? How have you changed since your days as a college student?

Now consider where Lehigh students are today. They are studying and juggling classwork, sports, activities, community service, research projects, internships, and part-time jobs. Lehigh students are hardworking go-getters who are striving to follow in our footsteps. And today we have the opportunity to help them do just that.

By giving to the Lehigh Fund, our class helps talented students access a Lehigh education. The Lehigh Fund supports the greatest needs of the university, which right now is scholarship and financial aid. By giving back to the place we call home, we provide today's students with the same opportunities we received during our time at Lehigh.

Our lives were changed at Lehigh. Let's honor our time together and celebrate our anniversary with a gift to the Lehigh Fund.
