June 2021

Dear Mrs. Smith,

Throughout the past year, the Loyola University Chicago community has come together as one, focusing on providing solutions to the challenges of the ongoing pandemic while looking toward the future to ensure that today's students are prepared to address the complex, global issues facing our society.

As part of this commitment to educating values-based leaders rooted in service, it is a pleasure to introduce to you a group of opportunities supporting this mission. Inspired by her mother Audrey Ratner's (BSEd '78) lifelong commitment to education, and her own experience as a veteran and ROTC member at Loyola, Col. Jennifer Pritzker (BA '79) established the Ratner Endowments. These funds, in each of their unique ways, support students who are called to act, who are at transformational moment in their lives, and who seek to create a better future with a Loyola degree.

- The Endowment for Future Teachers provides scholarships to service-oriented undergraduate and graduate students studying at the School of Education, preparing them for the challenges of today's classroom
- The Endowment for ROTC Scholarships and Stipends provides scholarships and critical residential support to Rambler Battalion cadets studying at Loyola
- The Endowment for Veterans Scholarships and Stipends provides scholarship and residential support to current students who are veterans and children of service members, providing more resources for our growing veteran population
- The Endowment for the President's Innovation Fund will provide funding for new, transformational projects or programs, preparing students to meet the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead

As we look toward the beginning of the academic year, please consider making a gift to the Ratner Endowment most meaningful to you. As part of this initiative, all gifts made to these funds will be matched dollar for dollar to ensure that your gift will have a direct impact on current Loyola students and your generosity will change lives far into the future. Thank you for your consideration.

With gratitude,

MEGAN KARWACKI

Director, Annual Giving

P.S. Thanks to a generous gift from Col. Pritzker's TAWANI Foundation, all gifts to the Endowment for Future Teachers will be matched up to $1 million. Your gift will have double the impact on the next generation of teachers and all their future students!
