Dear [Informal Salutation],

In a time of uncertainty, your support provided stability. In a time of unique challenges, your gift provided a way forward.

While obstacles are a part of life, and college is all about new experiences, 2020 was more than anyone bargained for. Routine tasks were suddenly more difficult. Classes had to be completed in a new way. And food and other necessities were more expensive. It could be overwhelming at times, but your support made things a little easier.

While the college experience looked different last year, students still received the Tennessee Tech Experience. They received an affordable, quality education and meaningful interactions with passionate faculty and staff. They interacted with friends and professors in new and innovative ways. Most importantly, they learned valuable lessons both in and out of the classroom.

Years from now, Tech alumni will remember the obstacles they overcame in 2020. They will remember how they stayed enrolled even when it might have seemed easier to give up. And they will remember those who stepped forward to help them along the way. Thank you for being one who stepped forward. Thank you for being True To Tech.

Sincerely,

Brandon Boyd | Director, Crawford Alumni Center
