Fall 2020

Dear _____,

I hope this letter finds you and your loved ones healthy and well during what continues to be an incredibly difficult time for our nation and the world. This fall semester feels like no other in the history of the University. We continue to adapt to COVID-19 and to the changing guidance from our public health experts and the Commonwealth. Amid all this uncertainty, our core mission remains the same: We're still teaching our students, conducting ground-breaking research, engaging in community service, and providing life-saving patient care. But we are doing so in the face of unprecedented challenges.

Because of your generosity, we have been able to respond quickly to the new challenges before us. You are an integral part of UVA, part of the 2 percent of philanthropists who make more than 80 percent of the contributions sustaining programs across all areas of the University. Thanks to your strong leadership, UVA is in a better position to meet challenges and opportunities as they arise.

Faced with this pandemic, the UVA community has found new ways to support our students, faculty, staff, and community. In March, UVA Health developed a COVID-19 test that gives us short-turnaround testing capability; donors funded scholarships for students with unexpected financial hardships caused by COVID-19; and School of Medicine faculty launched a podcast about valuable lessons learned first-hand from treating the virus.

These successes would not be possible without your support. I encourage you to renew your commitment to help us meet the University's continually evolving needs. Your investment in flexible, unrestricted funds like The Virginia Fund and your school or program's annual fund help us continue to support our students and faculty.

Thanks for showing your continued dedication to the University. UVA may feel different this semester, but we're still strongly supporting our students, faculty, staff, and community. I know we'll get through this trial together and grow stronger as a result.

Best,

Jim

P.S. Your gift to The Virginia Fund or your school's annual fund ensures your dollars are spent where they are needed most. Please consider giving today.

LEADERS in PHILANTHROPY

The University of Virginia celebrates and recognizes donors through three pan-University giving societies. Over 8,000 donors are a member of one or more of these groups and are recognized as Leaders in Philanthropy. Your contributions helped to create scholarships, advance faculty research, lead preservation efforts for our historic Grounds, pave the way for innovative healthcare, fund study-abroad programs, support public service stipends for students, and so much more.

LAWN SOCIETY

The Lawn Society celebrates UVA's premier benefactors for their cumulative lifetime giving of $500,000 or more across the University. The Pavilion Level of the Lawn Society recognizes those whose lifetime cumulative giving totals $1 million or more.

CORNERSTONE SOCIETY

The Cornerstone Society includes donors whose support will benefit the University in the future through estate gifts, beneficiary designations, and gifts that may provide lifetime income.

ROTUNDA SOCIETY

The Rotunda Society recognizes donors who make cumulative annual gifts of $2,500 or more across the University. Alumni who have completed degrees in the last five years are recognized for their cumulative annual giving of $1,000 or more.
